Things have been busy lately here at Knit Witch. We are gearing up to send a lot of yarn to the Sock Summit in August and we are starting to get ready for SAFF in October too!

We entered the "Dye for Glory" contest on Ravelry which they are doing in conjunction with the Sock Summit. We entered six colors and they are all available for sale HERE on our website. Voting will commence sometime after July 22 so I'll send out a quick announcement letting you know when and where to vote when I have the information. These colors will also be at the Sock Summit and you can place an order for them there if they sell out.

Announcements

Sock Summit – Knit Witch yarns will be at the Sock Summit August 6-9 in Portland, OR. We will be featured in the Yarny Goodness Booth (#417) and in the Wild Geese Fibres Booth (#729). The "Dye for Glory" contest entries will be in the Yarny Goodness booth. We won't be sending yarn bowls to the show simply due to logistical reasons but the yarn bowls, as always, are available for purchase on our website.

New Sock Pattern – The Zodia sock pattern has now been released and is available for download HERE on the website. This is a fun and challenging sock knit designed by Beverly S. exclusively for Knit Witch. We hope you will enjoy it!

Video Downloads – The Knit Witch Videos on You Tube are now available for a $0.99 download. We have had lots of requests for people to be able to download them so that you can have access to them even if you find yourself without internet access. So, now that is available for you and we will be making new videos sometime over the next few months – I promise! We are currently taking suggestions for new videos that you would like to see. If you have a technique you would like to learn please email it to theknitwitch@gmail.com and we will be choosing some of the suggestions for videos. Our aim is to keep all of our videos on Youtube at no cost to you (unless you choose to download them of course).

New Yarn Bowls – New yarn bowls were added on June 25th.

Watch For – Our new yarn line coming up SOON! We will be rearranging and adding new products so keep watching for new stuff!
